OUR WINE
BRANDS

CAMBRIAN ROCK

Cambrian Rock Shiraz is produced in the iconic wine growing region of Heathcote, Central Victoria. The Heathcote wine region, nestled between the Goulburn Valley and Bendigo regions, is famous as a premium Shiraz-producing area. Like many parts of Central Victoria, it was largely used for sheep grazing then followed by gold mining before wine production began. The first vines appeared in the 1860s, but it was not until the 1960s that the real wave of development occurred. The region's climate and soil are influenced by the Mt Camel Range, which provides a natural tunnel for prevailing south to south-east winds that blow throughout the growing season. Heathcote's climate and soil produces world-class Shiraz with a unique character and superb ability to age.

The Cambrian Rock vines are grown in ancient Cambrian earth, formed from Cambrian rocks which are over 500 million years old. The Cambrian soils of Heathcote are unique to any other wine producing region in the world and consistently produce wines of outstanding quality.

The Shiraz displays fragrant aromas of ripe dark fruits with hints of earth, spice and subtle oak. The palate shows rich dark berries, a hint of spice and soft velvety tannins to finish. A truly elegant wine that typifies Heathcote Shiraz.

GUNN ESTATE

The Gunn Estate range is produced in the world renowned region of Marlborough, New Zealand. Located on the east coast with mountains to the west, Marlborough is one of New Zealand's sunniest and driest areas. In these bright, but relatively cool climate conditions, the grapes have the advantage of a long, slow, flavour-intensifying ripening period. Marked diurnal (day/night) temperature variations are a key factor behind the ability of Marlborough grapes to retain both fresh, vibrant fruit and crisp, herbaceous characters.

The Gunn Estate range is made in an uncomplicated early drinking style with pure fruit expression.

The Gunn Estate range is available in:

- Marlborough Sauvignon Blanc
- Marlborough Pinot Gris
- Marlborough Pinot Noir
- Marlborough Reserve Sauvignon Blanc
- Marlborough Sparkling Cuvee Sauvignon Blanc

THE MAÎTRESSE

The Yarra Valley is now recognised as one of Australia's foremost cool climate regions, capable of making classic styles from a wide range of varieties. The Yarra Valley offers Sparkling Wine, Chardonnay, Pinot Noir, Shiraz and Cabernet Sauvignon.

Pinot Noir takes pride of place amongst the red varieties in the Yarra Valley. It has won the reputation of being one of Australia's renowned Pinot Noir regions. Many appreciate its haunting delicacy and surprising length of flavour. The strawberry/plum spectrum of fruit flavours are the most common to be found in Yarra Valley Pinot Noir.

With its origins lying in the esteemed wine producing region of Burgundy, France, Pinot Noir is often described as the most sensuous of all wines. The Maîtresse (French for Mistress) Pinot Noir represents the true seductive nature of Pinot Noir.

The Maîtresse is ruby red in colour with slight purple tinges. The perfumed nose shows aromas of savoury cherry, plum and spice with hints of subtle oak. Spicy berry fruit flavours are supported by silky tannins with a finish that will make you long for more. An enticing wine that embodies Yarra Valley Pinot Noir.

RED CAMBRIA

Red Cambria Shiraz is produced in the famous wine growing region of Heathcote, Central Victoria. Heathcote is renowned as one of the best Shiraz growing regions in Australia.

Over the past 30 years, Heathcote district pioneers have extolled the virtues of having their vineyards planted in Cambrian Earth. These soils are the result of a very long weathering process, having been formed from Cambrian rocks which are over 500 million years old. The Cambrian Earth exists as two narrow bands that run parallel to the Mount William fault line. It is this Cambrian Earth that, like the Terra Rossa soil of the Coonawarra, confers the area's unique ability to produce extraordinary Shiraz with remarkable ageing ability.

The Red Cambria Heathcote Shiraz is dark ruby red in colour. The wine has intense aromas of spicy black pepper, blackberries and plums. The palate shows hints of liquorice and spice, with a touch of violets and mid palate lift. The wine is very generous with complex savoury characters and well rounded tannins accentuating the length. A stylish wine that embodies Heathcote Shiraz.

TOKOEKA ESTATE

On the South Island of New Zealand resides the Tokoeka (Maori for brown kiwi). Maori legend tells the story of a brave little bird who gave up its sanctuary in the forest roof to live in the cold damp forest floor, sacrificing both its home and its wings to protect others. It was this great sacrifice that led to the Tokoeka becoming New Zealand's most well known and loved bird.

From New Zealand's premier wine region of Marlborough, Tokoeka Estate wines show herbaceous aromatics and vividly pure fruit flavours. Within the region, viticulture has been developed primarily on sites with moderate low fertility and a noticeably stony, sandy loam top soil overlying deep layers of free-draining shingle. These shallow, fast draining, low fertility soils help to produce a lush, aromatic ripe wine because they reduce the vines vigour. Where a more herbaceous style is desired, sites with greater water retentive soils and moderate fertility are chosen.

The Tokoeka Estate range is available in:

- Marlborough Sauvignon Blanc
- Marlborough Sparkling Sauvignon Blanc
- Marlborough Reserve Sauvignon Blanc
- Marlborough Pinot Gris
- Marlborough Pinot Noir

THE RUSTY CIGAR

The Coonawarra region is located in the far south-east of South Australia and has a long viticultural history dating back to 1890. The region is only 100 kilometres (60 miles) inland and is exposed to a maritime climate with dry and moderately cool summers. The shape of the wine region reflects a similar shape to a cigar. The climate is quite unique and persistent cloud cover generally moderates the ripening period temperatures. The Terra Rossa of Coonawarra is Australia's most famous soil, renowned for its vivid red (Rusty) colour and its affinity with Cabernet Sauvignon wines. The clay component of Terra Rossa holds sufficient water to ensure the vines' roots remain moist and active throughout the summer. The sand component ensures adequate drainage, so that the vines are not waterlogged. The unique mixture of clay and sand that overlies moist limestone, ensures the soil is fertile which enables the grape vines to grow to perfection.

Grown in what is roundly considered to be the most famous of all new world terroirs, The Rusty Cigar range is available in:

- Coonawarra Cabernet Sauvignon
- Coonawarra Shiraz
- Coonawarra Classic Dry White
- Coonawarra Sparkling Shiraz
- Coonawarra Sparkling Brut Cuvee

SETTLERS ESTATE

Barossa Valley is one of the most historic wine producing regions in Australia. The Barossa Valley was first settled in 1842 by German settlers who had fled their homeland in fear of religious persecution. The valley has developed its own culture and lifestyle which is evident today. There are now 6th generation grape growing families in the Barossa Valley. Shiraz is Barossa's star performer. It occupies approximately 50 percent of the vineyard plantings and is by any measure the prominent variety of this region. The Barossa is home to some of the oldest Shiraz vines in the world dating back to the 1840s.

Typically full-bodied with ripe fruit and plush tannins, the Settlers Estate Shiraz is a prime example of natural richness with balanced acidity and focused pure fruit character. It displays a strong crimson purple colour. The nose shows earthy tones with hints of spice and blackberries. The palate has full bodied, powerful dark fruit flavours with dark chocolate and savoury overtones. Hints of spicy oak lead to a finish which is both long and beautifully balanced.

TELEGRAPH STATION

McLaren Vale is one of South Australia's oldest and most picturesque regions, nestled between the Mount Lofty Ranges and the white, sandy beaches of the Gulf of St Vincent. It offers exceptional wines and regional produce all set amongst rolling vineyards, a rugged coastline and a charming collective of villages including Willunga, Clarendon, Kangarilla, Sellicks, Port Willunga, McLaren Flat and the township of McLaren Vale.

Notable for producing Shiraz, this grape is by far the most important variety for the region, accounting for about 50 percent of the total crush. The area's thin soils, limited water, and warm summers harness Shiraz's natural vigor and produce intense flavoured fruit and wine with a deep purple colour that can last decades in the bottle. McLaren Vale wines are distinguished by their ripeness, elegance, structure, power and complexity.

The Telegraph Station Shiraz shows a deep magenta colour with vibrant purple hues. Intense aromas of blackcurrant, raspberry and mulberry with hints of liquorice, spice and rhubarb. The palate is lively with luscious fresh blackberry and raspberry fruit, coupled with slight mocha and toasty notes. The finish is rich and full with well balanced acidity and velvety tannins.

VEUVE BRISSET

Veuve Brisset Champagne is produced in Bouzy, France. The Bouzy village's vineyards are located in the Montagne de Reims subregion of Champagne and are classified as Grand Cru (100%) in the Champagne vineyard classification. Veuve Brisset Brut Champagne is an exceptional wine that comes from the blend of fifteen crus and has aged long months in the cellar carved into the chalk.

Made up from two thirds of Pinot Noir and one third of Chardonnay with a dosage of 8g/L, the Champagne displays a fine bright and precise bead. There are upfront aromas of white flowers and apple blossom. Vibrant flavours of white-fleshed fruits, pear, peach and apple are elegantly blanced with characters of baked brioche and butter pastries. The more full-bodied style champagne has an impeccable balance of creaminess to fresh crisp acidity. Veuve Brisset Brut can be enjoyed as an aperitif or can be paired perfectly with white butter grilled fish and poultry.

RIVER ESK

Located at a more southerly latitude than the rest of Australia's wine regions, Tasmania has a cooler climate and the potential to make distinctly different wines than in the rest of the country. The area grows primarily Pinot Noir, Chardonnay and Sauvignon Blanc, with some smaller plantings of Riesling, Pinot Gris and Cabernet Sauvignon. Tasmania's Tamar River is distinguished as Australia's longest tidal navigable river. Its long, lazy bends wind 65 kilometres inland, around hills and plains, beaches and bush. Fed by the fresh, flushing waters of the North and South Esk Rivers, the Tamar has created a gloriously fertile valley of high-yielding vineyards. The cool climate location ensures the production of wines of exceptional quality.

The River Esk Pinot Noir displays bright ruby red hues. The lively nose reveals hints of sour cherry and lifted strawberry with delicate chocolate spice supported by deluxe oak. Ripe plums interplay with a spicy structured palate full of bright red cherries, rounded off perfectly with silky luscious tannins leading into a long lingering finish.

The River Esk Chardonnay displays a fine pale straw colour with hints of youthful green. The nose shows a complexity of white stone fruit, zest of lime and apple. A rich palate filled with ripe melon and white peach, with hints of orchard apple leads into a crisp Chablis like acidity. An outstanding wine with great length and mouthfeel.

The River Esk Pinot Chardonnay displays bright, golden colours with hints of green hues. The nose shows a complexity of lemon zest that is underlined by creamy and bread like characters. The rich palate is balanced perfectly with a straight and focused line of acidity which is then softened by the creamy finish.

RIVERESK

THE EXPRESSIONIST

The Expressionist range of single varietal wines are sourced throughout the entire South-Eastern third of Australia. Sourcing from only the finest of crops within this viticultural superzone ensures that the Expressionist range is of outstanding quality vintage after vintage. Drawing inspiration from Expressionism, each and every one of the wines have their own expression and story to tell and when paired with food make the perfect accompaniment for any dinner party.

The Expressionist Pinot Grigio displays pale straw with green hues. Aromas of savoury lemon and quince combine perfectly with a touch of minerality. Complex flavours of pear, apple and lime acidity. The wine will match wonderfully with raw fish dishes like tuna tartare, salmon carpaccio and ceviche.

The Expressionist Chardonnay displays light straw with bright green hues. Fresh aromas with pineapple and peach. A smooth creamy mouth-feel showing hints of honey rounded off perfectly with a slight touch of lemon. The wine will match superbly with delicate food such as raw and lightly cooked shellfish like crab and prawns.

The Expressionist Pinot Noir is vibrant and fruit driven, with a great depth of flavour. A balance of strawberry and pomegranate delicately intertwine with earth and spice. The complex palate is finely textured and rounded off perfectly with silky tannins. Enjoy with duck breast served with confit duck leg, poached figs and a spiced citrus glaze. The Pinot will also pair well with Charcuterie Boards featuring ham, cold meats, pâtés and terrines.

The Expressionist Shiraz displays deep ruby red with brilliant hues. The nose reveals plum fruit aromas with hints of pepper and spice. Lifted berry and plum flavours are complimented by smooth tannins. Enjoy the wine with barbecued meat especially ribs, spicy sausages and smoked brisket. Grilled vegetables would be a great alternative as well.

The Expressionist Cabernet Sauvignon shows crimson red with touches of purple hues. Lifted aromatics of black currant and forest berries with subtle violet notes. A fruit driven wine with blackberry, currant and plum fruit. Hints of cinnamon and dark chocolate complexities lead into a long supple finish. Enjoy with char grilled steak with a dark mushroom sauce or a hearty peppercorn sauce.

PERRY'S KEY

Situated in the northern Mt Lofty Ranges, South Australia's Clare Valley was settled in the late 1830s, with the first vineyards planted and wines produced in the early 1840s. The same features that make the Clare Valley inherently beautiful are also the foundation of Clare's famed vineyards. The climate features a warm to hot summer, but cooling afternoon breezes play a major role in slowing down the ripening process. Some of Australia's finest Riesling is grown in the Clare Valley and the region also produces many other wine styles including Cabernet Sauvignon and Shiraz.

The Clare Valley is renowned as a premier producer of dry Riesling styles. The Perry's Key Riesling displays pale straw colour with green hues. It is highly aromatic, with lime, nectarine and floral tones. The palate shows pronounced citrus flavours with hints of passionfruit followed by a minerally, dry finish that is long and crisp.

The Perry's Key Shiraz is medium garnet in colour. Herbal, slightly oaky aromas are complimented by lifted cherry and hints of black pepper and liquorice. The palate is intense with strong cherry, liquorice and blackcurrant fruit. The finish is full and balanced with fine tannins providing excellent structure and weight.

MILYAN

The Margaret River region in Western Australia stretches some 100 kilometres (60 miles) from north to south and is about 27 kilometres (17 miles) wide in parts. The region is bounded to the east by the Leeuwin-Naturaliste Ridge, between Cape Naturaliste and Cape Leeuwin, and to the west by the Indian Ocean. A Mediterranean-style climate, lacking extreme summer and winter temperatures, provides ideal growing conditions. The climate is described as similar to that of Bordeaux in a dry vintage. Although a relatively young wine region, Margaret River is renowned for producing boutique premium styles of Semillon, Sauvignon Blanc, Cabernet Sauvignon and Cabernet Merlot.

The Milyan Semillon Sauvignon Blanc is clear and pale golden in colour with green hues. Herbaceous aromas with grassy influences blend with light tropical fruit on the nose. Citrus and gooseberry flavours flow through the palate with a lingering soft acidity completing the wine.

The Milyan Cabernet Merlot shows a deep purple colour. Aromas of blackcurrant and blackberry fruits combine with hints of white pepper, liquorice and subtle oak. The palate is finely textured with pronounced dark fruit flavours. Toasty oak characters are complimented by silky tannins which produce a lovely soft, balanced finish. These are trademark characteristics of a quality Margaret River wine.

EL TORERO

In order to discover the true history of Sangria, we have to go back hundreds of years, when the world seemed much larger, modern history was unwritten and vineyards were beginning to spread across the Iberian peninsula. When the Romans conquered Spain around 200 BC they brought with them their viticulture knowledge and a love of spiced wine. The Spaniards began producing their own red wine, which they would add fruit, brandy and spice. The wine was named 'Sangria' after Sangre, Spanish for blood, due to its deep red colour.

El Torero (Spanish for the bullfighter) Sangria is handcrafted in the traditional Spanish Sangria style. This exquisite wine blend shows aromas of blood orange and sweet dark berries. The palate displays lifted sweet cherry and blackberry flavours with hints of orange rind. A clean, refreshing wine with a lingering finish that leaves you wanting more and more. Best served chilled or over ice, our Sangria blend is the ultimate summer sipper.

TSS SCOTCH WHISKY

The name "Stewart" is derived from the Old English word "steward" - the protector and caretaker of the Kingdom of Scotland.

The Royal Stewarts were an unlucky dynasty: of the fourteen crowned monarchs between 1371 and 1714, four were murdered or executed, two died in battle, one died in exile, while seven in succession came to the throne as minors. Unluckiness seemed to follow the Stewarts for generations.

In the mid 1800's, Thomas Sloan Stewart and his brother Charles fulfilled their dream of migrating to Australia in pursuit of riches from the fabled goldfields, and to continue the family tradition of distilling fine spirits. However, haunted by the murder of his dear brother, Thomas eventually returned alone to his home in Scotland.

It was here that he assumed the position of honouring their dreams of distilling and continuing the family tradition. Thomas devoted half of his life to evolving and perfecting his family's elixir that would one day be revealed to the world to honour the spirit of his lost brother.

Aged and blended in Scotland, TSS (Thomas Sloan Stewart) is a 12 year old Scotch Whisky Signature Blend.

TSS displays a beautifully intense malt nose with cidery-apple fruitiness, rounded off superbly with gentle oak and honey. An engagingly crisp mouthfeel graduates to a soft spiced malt finish.

BLACK BARREL KENTUCKY BOURBON

Maybe it seems strange that a man of the cloth would become known as "The Father of Bourbon," but Reverend Elijah Craig was given that title because of something he did with whiskey barrels at the distillery he built in 1789. He charred the inside of them. How he came up with that idea is uncertain. Some believe the whole thing was an accident where some new barrels got charred in a barn fire and frugal Reverend Craig couldn't bear to toss them out. Others believe claims that his frugality led him to use old barrels, so he charred the insides to kill any flavors from the barrel's original contents. No matter how it happened, charring the inside of oak whiskey barrels was a discovery that set a milestone for creating what would become the world famous Bourbon.

From the iconic home of Bourbon, Kentucky USA, Black Barrel Bourbon is produced using only the finest grains and iron-free water filtered through limestone to create a traditional and authentic Kentucky Straight Bourbon. At 40% alcohol by volume (80 US proof) the bourbon is wood aged for a minimum of two years in new charred American Oak ageing barrels where it interacts with the caramelized wood beneath. The end result is a smooth, mellow bourbon that is rich in flavours of caramel and vanilla, yet soft on the palate.
